

BOOST YOUR CAREER WITH AN APPRENTICESHIP

TEACHING ASSISTANT, LEVEL 3

Teaching Assistants work very closely with students and often support the same individual long-term. They work in primary, secondary and special education schools with all year groups. They often work closely with small groups or individual students and can have a life changing impact on the people they work with.

Becoming an apprentice Teaching Assistant means you can start working in a classroom straight away. You will work with the lead classroom teacher to support students, make sure lessons run smoothly and lead smaller group activities.

Typical tasks include:

- Helping pupils with their learning
- Running activities with small groups
- Supporting individual students to overcome challenges, such as reading, writing or confidence
- Supporting students who have special educational needs or disabilities
- Preparing classroom resources and displays

With an apprenticeship, you EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

As well as working, you will learn new skills in your chosen profession for at least one day a week. The blend of practical work and support from your assessor means you will put into practice the things you learn. You will also gain skills such as communication, teamwork, problem-solving and IT, and have time to improve functional maths and English where needed.

It won't cost you anything. Your employer will pay your salary and the training will be paid for from a government fund.

This can be the starting point to a great career in teaching. Following your apprenticeship, you could progress to:

- Higher level teaching assistant roles
- Specialist teaching assistant roles
